

ProjectRecreate Volunteer Info

(If you don't want to read everything, just read the highlighted parts)

Here's the general info for volunteering with ProjectRecreate:

1. There are two ways of volunteering, one requires some knowledge in CAD.
 - a. In-person volunteering:
 - i. In person volunteering is a great way to involve yourself with neuroscience education and awareness. No knowledge in CAD needed, just eagerness to show up.
 - ii. In person volunteering happens in the case of an event. Our events are updated on our website, instagram and linkedin.
 - iii. To sign up for in person volunteering, fill out this form.
 - b. Online volunteering:
 - i. Online volunteering is a great chance to earn volunteer hours just by helping out with our projects
 - ii. Online volunteering requires some background knowledge of CAD
 - iii. Online volunteering is open for sign up anytime, we are always welcoming new volunteers
 - iv. To sign up for online volunteering, fill out this form
2. Volunteering with ProjectRecreate requires at least the minimum amount of commitment.
 - a. For in person volunteering, if you fill out the form, we sort of expect to see you at least once
 - b. For online volunteering, as long as you are committing 1-2 hours per week, we will be over delighted.
3. Volunteer hours are differently given out based on how you're volunteering:
 - a. In person volunteering is simple: If you show up at an event then you will be given hours based on how long the event is
 - b. Online volunteering: As long as you contributed to ONE project, you will get 4 hours per week
